

PRODUCT INFORMATION

EXCELOSLICK

AM2F Energy EXCELOSLICK Friction Reducer is a highly effective fluid additive which reduces the pipe friction pressure, increases the flow rate and reduces the energy consumption during hydraulic fracturing treatments and coiled tubing operations.

AM2F Energy EXCELOSLICK Friction Reducer is a synthetic high molecular polymer compound based on a proprietary polyacrylamide copolymer.

AM2F Energy EXCELOSLICK Friction Reducer is a “ready to use” liquid/slurry of polymer compound, surfactant, stabilizer and wetting agents.

AM2F Energy also offers the EXCELOSLICK Friction Reducer in powder form for customers who require well specific friction reducer formulation.
